Question Display: All questions are displayed regardless if they are on easy or medium.

Next Question: since this is a ranking game and it is based on time the user will be given the next question straight away as the less time it takes them to complete the game the more points they will get.

After 10 questions and they get a high enough score to get into the rankings

After 10 questions without scoring a high enough score to get on the database

Results: if the player managed to get a high enough score to get in the rankings they will be prompted to enter a name they are comfortable entering into the database; i.e. not their normal name unless they want to
